The City of Hamilton's Built Heritage Inventory of the Durand neighbourhood is part of a proactive initiative to review and update the existing municipal Inventory of Buildings of Architectural and/or Historical Interest.

The Inventory acts as a repository of built heritage in the city and consists of properties designated under the Ontario Heritage Act as well as some which are undesignated. The inventory has been used as a resource for heritage properties in development planning, neighbourhood planning, environmental assessments, real estate matters, property inquiries, and even film shoots. At this meeting we want citizens to give us their perceptions of Durand's character.
